50 CENTS PER MONTH

PRISON CELLS FOR THE McNAMARAS

JOHN GETS LIFE SENTENCE—J.J., 15 YEARS

Both Go to San Quentin—Men Lost Their Bravado As Judge Scored Them

PROMISES KEPT—MINIMUM PENALTIES

Darrow Sombre Over Loss of Big Case—Courtroom Under Extra Guard

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—James B. McNamara gets life imprisonment. Judge Bordwell bitterly scored "Jim" as he sentenced him to San Quentin for life.

John J. McNamara was sentenced to fifteen years in the same prison. Both Judge Bordwell and District Attorney Fredericks scored John J. McNamara as he received his sentence of fifteen years in San Quentin.

The bargain was kept. The promises made to counsel for the McNamara brothers by the big business men of Los Angeles who wanted the case disposed of prior to the municipal election in this city, were kept today by District Attorney Fredericks and Judge Bordwell.

If the two men live and prove exemplary prisoners they will come under the operation of the state parole law within seven years.

The scenes in connection with the sentencing of the two men were theatrical in the extreme. Because Judge Bordwell feared something might happen to mar the peace, he took extraordinary precautions to prevent any disturbance.

When the two men were finally smuggled into the small criminal court room in the hall of justice they were badly broken men. All bravado, swagger and defiance were gone from their manner. "Jim" McNamara was especially in a bad way. He shook and trembled when he first stood up to hear the doom but later practically regained his composure.

Judge Bordwell's examination of "Jim" McNamara was bitter in the extreme. After he had asked whether he had not tried at first to get dynamite of a higher explosive character than eighty per cent, and received a negative answer, Judge Bordwell said: "There is no comfort in the assertion that you did not intend to take life. The widows, orphans and parents of the victims would look upon that statement at this time as a mockery. Circumstances are against you in making such claims. The man who would put dynamite, sixteen sticks, in a building which was known to you as a printing office filled with combustibles, meant such only for murder, and nothing else. It is not an extenuating circumstance that you did not intend to kill anyone. There is no question in my mind that you are a murderer, and as such should be punished, and I sentence you to life imprisonment to San Quentin."

The court's sensational arraignment of James McNamara followed closely on the suggestion of District Attorney Fredericks, that his penalty be life imprisonment. In making the suggestion, Fredericks said that there were two punishments for the first degree of murder, and in the opinion of many, one was as severe as the other. "The defendant, having pleaded guilty," he said, "it is customary for the state to extend clemency, not because he is entitled to it, but because he has saved the state a great expense and also cleared up what always would have been a disputed point, whether or not he actually committed the crime. I think J. B. McNamara is entitled to the minimum penalty for the crime to which he pleaded guilty."

James was in a state of collapse as Fredericks sat down. His form trembled, and a bright flush was in evidence on his face. There was not an instant's delay as James sank into his (Continued on Page Six)

Some Big Labor Leaders Guilty Says Fredericks

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—District Attorney Fredericks declared after the sentencing, that some of the big labor leaders who are denouncing the McNamaras for confessing, are absolutely guilty of the same crime for which they were sentenced here today and that he has positive proof of that fact. Fredericks said:

"Some of the statements from the labor leaders repudiating the McNamaras are sincere and some are not. Some of the statements came from men I know are implicated in the dynamiting outrages for which these men were sentenced today."

"I am perfectly satisfied with the outcome and think Judge Bordwell did exactly right. The ends of justice have been served. The outcome of this case means more than anything else the passing of the bludgeon and the strong-arm man from labor ranks."

"There was no bargaining or bickering in this case. I knew this morning when I went into court what the sentences would be. I believe the attorneys for the defense did not know. All this Steffens stuff about fixing the case makes me tired. I do not know when Orrie McManigal will be arraigned but believe it will not be soon."

BOTH SIDES CLAIM TODAY'S ELECTION IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—At one o'clock this afternoon the campaign committee of the Good Government forces claimed the city for their candidates by an overwhelming majority. Chairman William Bryant said:

"George Alexander will be returned to the majority chair by from twenty to forty thousand."

Job Harriman, the Socialist mayoralty candidate, predicted that he would be elected by five thousand majority.

At one o'clock it was estimated that seventy thousand votes had been cast, about half the number being women.

LA FOLLETTE SOON TO START WEST ON SHORT CAMPAIGN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The speech-making trip to be made by Senator La Follette, progressive candidate for the presidency, will begin soon, now that congress has met. It is expected that the senator will leave Washington about December 10 and spend most of the time between that date and the re-assembling of congress after the holidays making speeches in the middle west.

The itinerary includes Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, the two Dakotas, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. It is likely that the first speech will be made in Northern Ohio, opening with a set speech at Cleveland. That section is now a seething political kettle.

Mrs. Cummings followed closely on the suggestion of District Attorney Fredericks, that his penalty be life imprisonment. In making the suggestion, Fredericks said that there were two punishments for the first degree of murder, and in the opinion of many, one was as severe as the other.

STAY OF TRIAL DENIED TO PACKERS

Federal Supreme Court Refuses to Halt Proceedings In Famous Case

PACKERS' PLEA WILL BE RETAINED ON RECORD

Appeal of Beef Barons Was Made on Unconstitutionality of Anti-Trust Law

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Federal Supreme Court today denied the application of the Chicago packers for a stay of trial.

The packers appeal was based on the contention that the anti-trust law was unconstitutional. The plea as such, remains on the docket.

The ten Chicago packers headed by J. Ogden Armour, who are charged with criminal conspiracy under the Sherman law, yesterday filed their petition for a review of the habeas corpus proceedings recently entered in their behalf in the Federal Court in Chicago, and later quashed by Judge Carpenter.

The refusal of the Supreme Court to grant their petition will probably result in trial of the packers.

BOY BURNED LAST WEEK STILL LIVES

Little Frank Mozart, one of the three Mexican boys burned at Los Alamos last Wednesday, is still alive, with little chance of recovery. The other boys who were burned were buried last Friday, death having occurred Wednesday night.

Dr. Violet of Garden Grove, who had charge of Frank Mozart, tried to persuade the parents of the child to allow the child to be taken to a hospital, but the parents refused because they said they knew one or both of the child's legs would be amputated. Dr. Violet told them that amputation is necessary if the life is to be saved.

He found that his instructions for the care of the boy were not being carried out. Yesterday a physician from Artesia was called in, and Dr. Violet turned the case over to him.

U. S. WINS VICTORY IN ALASKA COAL LANDS SUIT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The government won a sweeping victory yesterday in its campaign against the Alaska coal land frauds, when the supreme court of the United States decided that a person or association is limited to one coal land entry in Alaska. Accordingly, the court held valid the indictment charging Charles F. Munday and Archie W. Shiels with land fraud conspiracy.

Women Casting First Vote At Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 5.—Over two thousand women voters are casting their first ballots in today's municipal election. The women turned out in larger numbers than the men. Interest is centered on the mayoralty contest. The candidates are Dr. Elmer J. Boeske and William W. Wyles. The latter is regarded as the rich man's candidate and betting is two to one that Dr. Boeske will be elected.

MASS MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

Speakers Will Meet Objections and Explain the Situation

Monster Parade of School Children Will be Held

Night of 13th

Ward workers of the Fifth Ward held a meeting last night to report on the results of polling the ward. The reports showed that of the voters seen six were favorable to the bonds to one opposed.

Voters of the Second Ward meet tonight at the Commercial high school.

Friday night a mass meeting of citizens will be held at Spurgeon's hall in this city to discuss the proposals to bond Santa Ana $200,000 for a new high school, adding polytechnic departments to the departments now provided, and $25,000 for a new grammar school in the southern part of the city.

The purpose of the meeting is to meet and explain any objections that there may have been made to the bonds. A number of speakers will be provided. Among them will be Postmaster L. L. Shaw, who has made a thorough investigation into the polytechnic high school and into Santa Ana's needs along the line of additional educational facilities.

A second mass meeting will be held on the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 13, the night before election. It is probable that one of the heads of Throop Polytechnic will be here to address the meeting. A monster parade of school children will be arranged for.

Tomorrow night a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of Roosevelt school (First street) will be held at the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 o'clock to discuss the bonds.

TWO REAPPORTMENT BILLS IN YESTERDAY

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5.—With the introduction of two congressional reapportionment bills yesterday, following a measure covering the subject introduced by Assemblyman Rutherford last week, and the announcement by Assemblyman Beckett that he will offer still another bill, the legislature faces the necessity of dealing with four distinct plans for redistricting the state in accordance with the congressional enactment allowing it eleven congressional districts. The bills presented yesterday were drawn and introduced by Assemblymen Preisker and Polinsky.

Revises Anti-Jap Legislation
SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5.—A bombshell, whose reverberations may not be still for weeks, shattered the placid atmosphere of the legislature today, when Senator J. B. Sanford, the Democratic war horse from Mendocino, fired the first gun in the renewal of the bitter fight against the immigration of undesirable Japanese and other Asiatics. This fight rocked the legislative sessions of 1909 and 1911 to their foundations and was only subdued by the "big stick" at Washington.

Sanford, who led the fight in the spring for the enactment of anti-Japanese bills, had been in secret conference with the labor leaders of the legislature, with the Asiatic Exclusion League and with Congressman Raker. The conclusion has been reached that the time is now ripe for the supreme contest to close the gates of immigration against the Japanese as they are now closed to Chinese.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Fulgham and three children, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunter and baby are here from Cook county, Oregon. They are temporarily located at 1711 West Fifth street and their intention is to permanently locate on farm lands in the vicinity of Santa Ana.

ANTI-TRUST MESSAGE SENT TO CONGRESS TODAY BY TAFT DEFENDS TRUST DECISIONS

President Taft's Plan For The Control of Trusts

President Taft quotes the following from a former message as practical method for control of trusts:

"Corporations organized under this act should be prohibited from acquiring and holding stock in other corporations except for special reasons, upon approval by the proper Federal authority, thus avoiding the creation under national auspices of the holding company with subordinate corporations in different states, which has been such an effective agency in the creations of the great trusts and monopolies."

"If the prohibition of the anti-trust act against combinations in restraint of trade is to be effectively enforced, it is essential that the National Government shall provide for the creations of national corporations to carry on a legitimate business throughout the the United States. The conflicting laws of the different states of the union with respect to foreign corporations make it difficult, if not impossible, for one corporation to comply with their requirements so as to carry on business in a number of different states."

GERMAN OFFICER ARRESTED AS SPY

English Dockyard Sketched by Capt. Grosse—Excitement Followed Arrest

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Dec. 5.—Captain Heinrich Grosse, a German army officer on leave of absence was arrested here today as a spy. He is alleged to have been making maps of the dockyards harbor.

Great excitement followed the arrest, owing to the belief that war between England and Germany is imminent.

SAN DIEGO PLANS FOR WATER BY DAMMING OF RIVER
SAN DIEGO, Dec. 5.—Declaring that billions of gallons of water is going to waste and that such waste by San Diego county is criminal, Councilman P. E. Woods has proposed to the Single Tax league a plan for developing the 9000 acres of the city's pueblo lands by damming the San Diego river in Mission valley and irrigating the waste lands in question. He would have such irrigated lands rented out at low cost in tracts of two to five acres and thus benefit thousands of poor people. Woods also insists that the plan, if carried out, would reduce taxes in San Diego 30 per cent. The plan has caused city-wide discussion and is being received favorably.

WHITTIER BARS BASE BALL BY ORDINANCE
WHITTIER, Dec. 5.—The board of trustees of Whittier this evening unanimously passed the anti-Sunday baseball ordinance. The ordinance also includes football but does not apply to tennis, golf or cricket. This action comes as the outcome of some six months' agitation. The trustees also purchased a twelve-ton steam steel roller.

TOWED BY BLACKFISH
LONG BEACH, Dec. 5.—To be towed nearly across the Catalina channel by a twenty-foot blackfish and then, after a fight lasting four hours and forty minutes, to lose the fish by the parting of the harpoon line, were the thrilling features of a cruise Sunday by J. D. Loop, A. H. Mason and others on Loop's launch, the Camigun, which has been fitted out for whale hunting.

KERN COUNTY HAD ITS FIRST RAINFALL SUNDAY
BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 5.—The first rain to visit Kern county since last spring began falling gently Sunday night at 10 o'clock and continued intermittently until noon yesterday, when the gauge showed .19 of an inch. The rain was very warm and fell with no wind. While nothing has suffered from lack of moisture so far, the rain, which was uniform all over the county, is very welcome and will benefit all sections. With the exception of a few fields of very late Egyptian corn, all crops had been harvested and there was no damage.

ROGERS IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Woman Who Betrayed Him to Police Was Gay in Court As Verdict Came In

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—John Rogers was this afternoon declared guilty of the murder of Benjamin A. Goodman, who was robbed of $5,000, and killed in the basement of a San Francisco produce company, by the coroner's jury. When asked if he cared to take a stand in his own behalf, the prisoner declared he did not, as he had no legal representative.

Opposite the prisoner, smiling and chatting, sat Hazel Smith, his consort, the woman who betrayed him to the police, and whom the detectives declare indirectly to be responsible for the crime.

SCORE OF CHINESE ARRESTED—OPIUM CONFISCATED
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—More than a score of Chinamen were arrested and $15,000 worth of opium confiscated yesterday afternoon in a spectacular raid on Chinatown by government agents in which almost every building on Race street between Ninth and Tenth streets and several buildings in Ninth street north of Race were raided.

Four young white girls were found, all said to have been under the influence of opium. With them were a number of Chinese and white men. Government agents held that the arrested Chinamen were distributing agents from whom opium has been sent all over the country.

COLORADO LEADS

Pacific Cruiser Carries Off American Fleet Honors in Target Practice

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The armored cruiser Colorado, of the Pacific fleet, has carried off the honors among American battleships and armored cruisers for the various forms of target practice in the tests of 1911, according to figures just computed at the navy department.

The Colorado leads the list with a score of 65,976, the Delaware second with 52,551 to her credit, and the New Hampshire third with a score of 48,249.

ROUND UP CHINESE

Los Angeles Times: Immigration Inspectors Miller, Brady and Garrity of this city, Sweet of San Pedro, and Blee of Santa Ana, raided the Southern Pacific shops yesterday and rounded up five Chinese, alleged to be unlawfully in the country. The yellow men were employed as engine wipers and in other subordinate positions about the shops. They will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Van Dyke this morning and ordered deported.

ASSERTS COURT CLARIFIED STATUTE

EXTOLS SHERMAN LAW—WOULD OPPOSE REPEAL

Supplementary Legislation Is Needed—Offers Plan For Trust Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President William Howard Taft today sent his much heralded "anti-trust" message to the sixty-second congress now in session. It follows: To the Senate and House of Representatives:

This message is the first of several which I shall send to congress during the interval between the opening of its regular session and its adjournment for the Christmas holidays. The amount of information to be communicated as to the operations of the government, the number of important subjects calling for comment by the executive, and the transmission to congress of exhaustive reports of special commissions, make it impossible to include in one message of a reasonable length a discussion of the topics that ought to be brought to the attention of the national legislature at its first regular session.

The Anti-Trust Law—The Supreme Court Decisions

In May last the supreme court handed down decisions in the suits in equity brought by the United States to enjoin the further maintenance of the Standard Oil trust and of the American Tobacco trust, and to secure their dissolution. The decisions are epoch-making and serve to advise the business world authoritatively of the scope and operation of the anti-trust act of 1890. The decisions do not depart in any substantial way from the previous decisions of the court in construing and applying this important statute, but they clarify the important points by further defining the already admitted exceptions to the literal construction of the act. By the decrees, they furnish a useful precedent as to the proper method of dealing with the capital and property of illegal trusts. These decisions suggest the need and wisdom of additional or supplemental legislation to make it easier for the entire business community to square with the rule of action and legality thus finally established and to preserve the benefit, freedom, and spur of reasonable competition without loss of real efficiency or progress.

No Change in Rule of Decision—Merely in Its Form of Expression

The statute in its first section declares to be illegal "every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations."

In two early cases, where the statute was invoked to enjoin a transportation rate agreement between interstate railroad companies, it was held that it was no defense to show that the agreement as to rates complained of was reasonable at common law, because it was said that the statute was directed against all contracts and combinations in restraint of trade whether reasonable at common law or not. It was plain from the record, however, that the contracts complained of in those cases would not have been deemed reasonable at common law. In subsequent cases the court said that the statute should be given a reasonable construction and refused to include within its inhibition, certain contractual restraints of trade which it denominated as incidental or as indirect.

PARKS ARE TO BE IMPROVED

Appropriation Requested by Secretary of Interior for Use Here

The department of the interior proposes to spend $381,620 in the national parks in California during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913. If the amount requested by the secretary of the interior is appropriated by congress. This is an increase of $314,070 over the appropriation for the current fiscal year. The increases requested are as follows: Yosemite national park, from $50,000 to $274,000; Sequoia national park, from $15,550 to $89,550; General Grant national park, from $2,000 to $17,250. The items for each park are as follows:

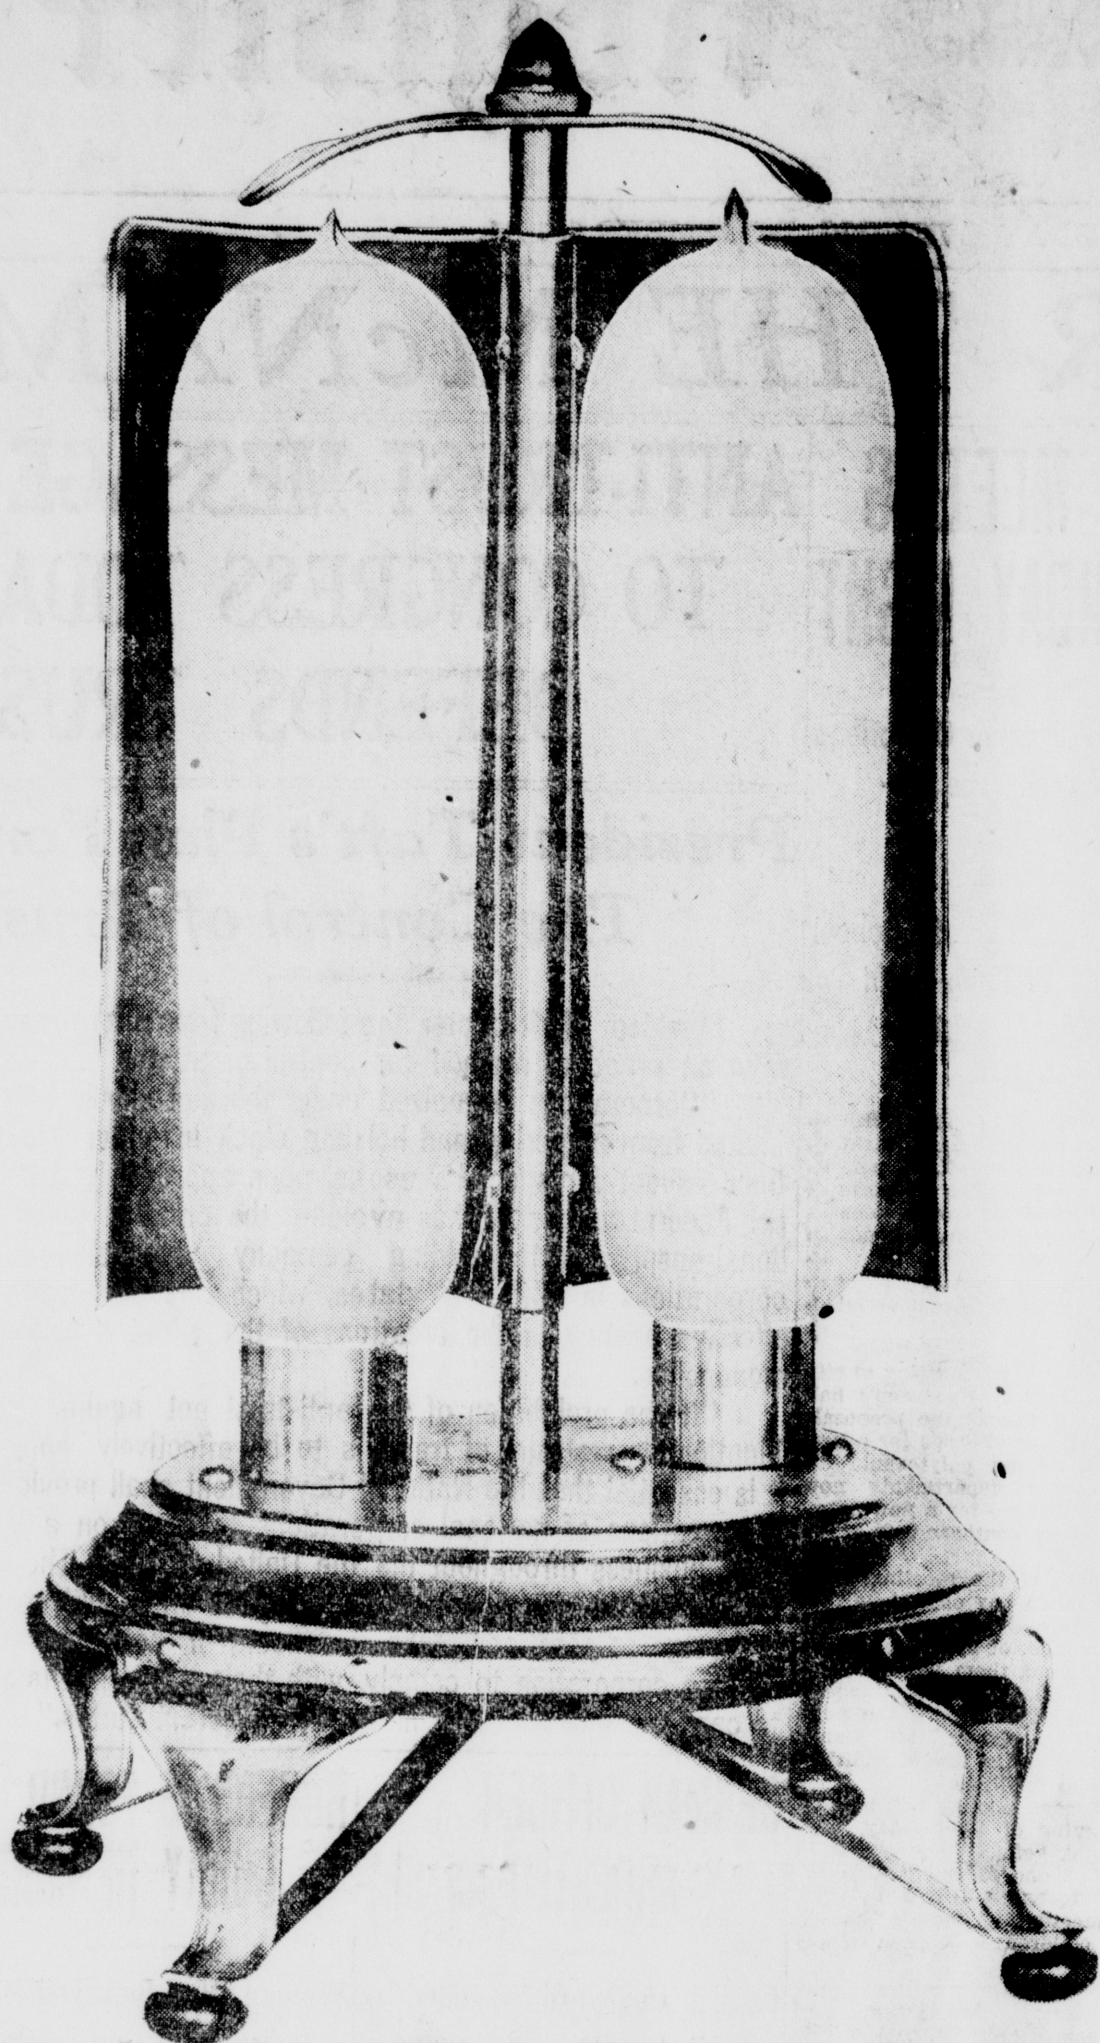

Yosemite national park: New road along south rim of Yosemite valley from Fort Monroe to Glacier Point, $75,000; improving the road on the north side of Merced river from Pohono bridge to the junction with the Coulterville road, $50,210; continuing the improvement of the road on the south side of Merced river from Camp Ahwanee to Happy Isles, $46,750; a re-enforced concrete bridge to replace the Sentinel bridge over Merced river, $14,000; construction of trail from Merced Lake up the Merced river canyon to the head of the Merced river, $5,000; construction of trail from the head of Lyell Fork Meadows to the Lyell glacier, $1,500; continuing the installation of the water distributing system in the Yosemite valley, $25,000; garbage incinerator, $6,900; operating the present road-sprinkling system, $7,500; the extension of the road sprinkling system to Fort Monroe and Happy Isles and operation of the same, $7,500; repair of existing roads, trails, bridges, culverts, buildings, plants, fences, camp sanitation, and removal of undergrowth, $25,000; salaries, $10,400.

Sequoia national park: Widening 21 miles of Giant Forest wagon road to 18 feet and constructing drain culvert, $25,200; constructing 40 miles of trail, $12,000; improving 150 miles of trail, $15,000; construction of 20 miles of telephone line, $8,000; fencing 50 miles of the park boundary, $10,000; completion of water system for Tourist Camp at Camp Sierra, including public drinking fountains, $2,500; constructing a stairway and hand rail on Moro Rock, $2,500; construction of pier, bathhouse, and boathouse at Twin Lakes, $2,000; improvement and development of Paradise and Clough caves, $2,000; piping water from Log Creek to Military Camp, $2,000; repainting Marble Fork bridge, $250; fencing rangers' pasture and constructing and painting rangers' cabins, $2,400; salaries of rangers, $5,700.

General Grant national park: Construction of two miles of wagon road, $5,000; construction of 2 miles of trail, $400; completing water supply system at Tourist Camp, $500; fencing Tourist Camp ground, $800; rebuilding 8 miles of park boundary fence, $1,500; construction and improvement of park buildings, $1,050; forestation, and protection of growing forest, $5,000; construction of three gateways at entrances to park, $750; construction of public bathhouse, $750; salary of park ranger, $1,400.

For the development and care of the national parks the secretary of the interior has asked congress to appropriate the sum of $791,080.60, an increase of $617,330.61 over the appropriations for the current fiscal year. The national parks constitute ideal recreation grounds for thousands of people, but their development and use are seriously retarded by the lack of adequate roads and trails, and until sufficient money is appropriated for beginning a comprehensive plan of development the parks will fall far short of rendering the important public use for which they are intended.

The general public interest in these pleasure grounds is shown by the fact that in a list recently issued by the department of the interior 300 magazine articles on the parks are enumerated. It is the intention of the department to make the principal places of interest in the parks more accessible, to render traveling more comfortable by sprinkling the roads throughout the dry season, and to guard the health of the traveler by the installation of proper water supply and sewerage systems. The responsibility for the future conduct of the national parks must rest with congress, but the department feels that the financial needs of these reservations should be clearly presented to congress in the annual estimates.

COLLIER IS CHOSEN TO SUCCEED GRANT

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 4.—David Charles Collier, who has been director general of the Panama-California International Exposition since the organization of that project, has been elected president to succeed U. S. Grant, Jr., who takes the chairmanship of the board of directors.

In electing Collier president, the board of directors had two things in mind, securing at the head of the enterprise a man of indefatigable industry, national acquaintance and positive genius for organization and for enlisting the support of elements that will make for the greatest success of the exposition; also, placing him in the same position as the presidents of similar enterprises.

Collier is comparatively a young man. He has served the exposition ever since it started in 1909 without salary or expense account of any kind. He has acquired wealth and declares it is his ambition to see San Diego a city of 150,000 and the Panama-California International Exposition the most beautiful and unique exposition ever built. It is due to his driving energy and enthusiasm that the exposition is so far advanced.

Actual construction of the exposition has begun. President Collier has announced that, owing to the equable and mild climate of San Diego, the exposition will be opened January 1, 1915, the day the president of the United States declares the Panama canal open, and will be kept open the entire year, closing December 31, 1915, at midnight. Over $2,500,000 has been subscribed toward the preliminary expense of the exposition and it is estimated that $7,000,000 will be spent upon it.

President Collier is now in Washington seeking the passage of the resolution through the United States senate empowering the president of the United States to invite the participation of the Latin-American republics at the Panama-California International Exposition. The house already has passed the resolution.

HISTORY OF THE RED CROSS SEAL

Red Cross Christmas seals date back in their origin to "charity stamps," first used for the soldiers' relief funds in Boston in 1862, during the Civil war. After the war, this method of raising money was discontinued in this country for a generation, although it found vogue in Portugal, Switzerland, Austria, France, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Russia, Sweden, and other European countries. There are now several hundred different types of charity stamps used in all parts of the world, as many as forty being used in Austria for children's hospitals alone.

Stamps or seals were first used to get money for the anti-tuberculosis crusade in Norway and Sweden in 1904. After being used in these countries for three years, as a direct result of the interest of Jacob Rills in this movement, the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Association, headed by Miss Emily P. Bissell, and the Red Cross Society of Delaware, combined in issuing a tuberculosis stamp. So successful was this campaign that nearly $3,000 was realized, and the next year, in 1908, the American Red Cross was induced to issue a national Red Cross tuberculosis stamp. From this sale, $135,000 was realized, that amount being almost doubled in 1909. Last year, for the first time, the sale was organized on a comprehensive basis, taking in all parts of the United States, and $310,000 worth were sold. In 1911, the slogan for the campaign is, "A Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Seals."

COURT HALTED WHEN JUDGE MEETS COUPLE OF COLLEGE CHUMS

Judge Henry Clay Gesford of Napa county, sitting in extra sessions court, interrupted the trial of a case yesterday to renew acquaintance with a former classmate he had not seen for thirty years. The reunion was arranged by Judge Willis of the superior court, who surprised the Napa jurist when he entered his courtroom arm in arm with Dick Harding, a well known attorney of Santa Ana. The three men attended together the state university of Iowa more than a quarter of a century ago, and while Judge Willis and Attorney Harding have met infrequently it was the first time the visiting jurist had met his former classmate since they left college. The reunion was a preliminary to a dinner which will be held some evening before Judge Gesford returns to his own county.—Los Angeles Tribune.

A special new feeling prevails in the F. A. A. and all members are attending.

Grand Jury Divided Up Immense Amount of Work to be Done by It

A. E. Stockslager Elected Secretary—G. A. Whidden is Named As Expert

Yesterday afternoon the grand jury elected A. E. Stockslager of Santa Ana as secretary, and the foreman, F.
A. Holbrook, appointed committees
as follows:

On roads, bridges and schoolhouses
—J. V. Sutton, E. H. Dierker, W. S.
Hall and F. E. Anderson.

Justice courts and public buildings
—H. S. Barton and George Clausen.
Offices of clerk, recorder, sheriff, district attorney, surveyor, tax collector, assessor and public administrator—R. J. Webster and G. A. Shee-maker.

Board of supervisors—Willard
Smith, A. L. Cotant, L. A. Phinney, and C. S. Hubbard.

Superintendent of Schools and auditor—M. S. Davis and M. Phillips.
Cities—A. E. Stockslager, A. K.
Cravath, C. F. Heil and William Kenyon.

G. A. Whidden has been appointed accountant.

The grand jury assembled this morning, and arranged for committee work. The members are representative, capable men and will do their work thoroughly and conscientiously.

Judge West in his charge to the grand jury yesterday afternoon said:
"Gentlemen:—Under the Constitution of this State, it is the duty of every Judge of the Superior Court of each county to draw and summon a Grand Jury at least once a year, and in pursuance of this Constitutional requirement and in obedience to the laws enacted in accordance therewith, you have been drawn and summoned at this time to perform the several duties incumbent upon you."

"By legislative enactment it becomes my duty to call your attention to certain provisions of the law and instruct you that it is your duty to ascertain whether they or any of them have been violated and to note the result of such investigation in your report."

"I call your attention to Chapter 1
of Title II of an Act to repeal Title II of Part IV of the Political Code, and to add a new Title II of Part IV of said Code in place thereof, relating to the establishment of a uniform system of County and Township governments." Passed by the Legislature at its sessions in 1907, and which you will find at page 354 of said Acts, comprising Section 4000 to 4005 C inclusive. Section 4005 C was amended at the session of the legislature of 1911, which you will find at page 97 of the Acts.

I also call your attention to the following sections of the Penal Code, which will serve as a guide in the investigation of criminal offenses, to-wit: Sec. 915, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 924, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929. Said section 925 was amended in 1911, see page 374 of the Acts of the Legislature. Section 928 was also amended at the same session page 373. The provisions in the last section, to-wit:
Sec. 928 to the effect "That if the Grand Jury shall in their report above mentioned, comment upon any person or official who has not been indicted by the said Grand Jury, said comments shall not be deemed to be privileged," does not operate as a limitation upon your power to comment upon the official conduct of the county offices. It is simply and only to the effect that if you unjustly and without good reason comment upon their official conduct, criticizing them without facts upon which to base your criticism, in such manner as to be libelous, you are not protected by the law, or in other words, it means that you must confine your criticism of public officers and persons to the facts in the case, and that you are not permitted to use libelous or slanderous language toward any officer or other person while acting as a grand jury, any more than you would be permitted to do as private citizens.

I further say to you, gentlemen, that the principal business that will come before you will be to make a careful and complete examination of records and accounts of all the officers of the county, as provided by said section 928 of the Penal Code, and to this end you are authorized and empowered to employ an expert to assist you at an agreed compensation, not to exceed five dollars per day, payable as other county charges.
I further say to you, gentlemen,
that criminal prosecution, as the law now stands, can be more readily and cheaply made through the District Attorney's office by information, than by indictment through your body, but if there are any cases that have not been prosecuted by the District Attorney, which come to your attention, it is your duty to take them up and examine them.

"Finally, gentlemen, I say to you that in order that your deliberations may be expeditious, it is not untimely that I say to you that it will be necessary for you to select a competent person from your number, who has aptness for keeping records, to act as secretary."

"Dated this 4th day of December, 1911.

"Judge of the Superior Court."

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR DAUGHTERS

Chicago Pastor's High Stand-

New Decalogue

- I. Thou shalt not deceive thy mother.
- II. Thou shalt not exchange the bloom of innocence for the favor and contempt of any man.
- III. Thou shalt not esteem silk petticoats and diamond rings as of greater value than the family's general welfare.
- IV. Thou shalt not regard flattery and false pretenses as the highway to popularity.
- V. Thou shalt not gossip.
- VI. Thou shalt not use loud speech nor bold manner to attract attention.
- VII. Thou shalt not think more of the culture of thy heels than thy head.
- VIII. Thou shalt not hold the cup to thy brother's lips; much less to the lips of somebody else's brother.

es dishes and sweeps the house.
X. Thou shalt find joy in the service of God who created thee.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—The "gushy" girl, the lazy one, the gossip, the girl who values silk petticoats above the comfort of her parents, all fall under the ban of the Rev. William B. Mil-lard's latest "ten commandments," issued last Sunday in a sermon at the Morgan Park Congregational church.
They are called the "Ten Commandments for Daughters."

Dr. Millard supplemented each commandment with an epigrammatic explanation.

"Few things," he said, "are more repellent than a gusher. Compliments, like kisses, lose their value as soon as they become promiscuous."

"The daughter who impairs the sweet intimacy between herself and her mother by placing her confidence elsewhere sacrifices one of life's rarest treasures."

"The man who coaxes a girl to step across the line of modesty is the first to despise her for doing so."

"Eagerness to keep up appearances in a fast set leads many a girl to turn the family bread and butter into expensive clothing and jewelry."

"The gossip is disliked as thoroughly as she is distrusted. The principle is that a girl who will gossip about one person will gossip about all others."

"Man has a feeling that he can be loud enough and rough enough for two. Tomboyishness attracts attention—but the wrong kind."

"The average society girl wastes enough time on dancing and cards to perfect herself in a half dozen arts."

"Do not preside at punch bowls.
Enough drinking is done in the name of courtesy."

"Don't let your mother's kindness make you selfish."

"If God deserves anything, He deserves all. Don't offer Him the ragged garments of your time and strength."

7,000,000 Tons of Coal Saved by Falling Water

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Dec. 28—

In view of the widespread movement for the conservation of natural resources, some figures given out by the Commerce Commission of this city, about power developed along the Niagara river, are significant.

By the use of only the excess flow of water—without damage to the appearance of the Falls—power equivalent to that produced by 6,700,000 tons of coal is turned out every year, on the Niagara river. As 6,700,000 tons of coal, at the price prevailing here, would cost about $18,359,000, the utilization by the water for power represents an annual saving of that amount of money.

The quantity of water that can be used for power is limited by law and international treaty, so that there is no danger of damage to the scenic beauty of Niagara. The restrictions are such that only a very small portion of the total flow can be used.

The power concerns are also co-operating with the Canadian and New York state governments to make and keep the shore lines beautiful.

Of course it is out of the question that the Nation will ever permit Niagara's waters to be converted into electricity up to a point where the scenic grandeur of the Falls would be affected. But a calculation of the potential energy of this great cataract is illuminating as to the vast water power wealth now going to waste in this country. Figured in the cost of coal that could be saved, the total amount of water running over the Falls represents an annual flood of $203,148,000, and a yearly consumption of 71,280,000 tons of coal. In a period of ten years the total power of Niagara would be worth $2,031,480, 000.

REAPING THE WHIRLWIND

Over in Virginia, a few days ago, a tragic chapter was written. It ended one miserable career. But it did not end all the misery and ignominy that two wasted, misdirected lives have entailed. No stronger, more eloquent sermon in behalf of clean living, and denunciatory of unclean living, could be preached, even by the Apostle Paul, than the horrifying, ghastly fruits of the wickedness of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., and Beulah Binford. If God puts the rainbow in the sky as an everlasting token of a cheering pledge to man, He also sets upon every Cain the brand of infamy and upon every mispent life the handwriting of despair and destruction. There is no more fearful utterance, to the wicked and dissolute, than that thunderous decree of Holy Writ—"Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." And in the reaping not only does the transgressor garner the sheaves of suffering and humiliation, but oftentimes the innocent suffer even more than the guilty.

Beulah Binford was a girl gifted with beauty and attractiveness. She was not given the right kind of home training, else she might have developed into an honorable, useful woman. She went to the bad. Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., came of a good family in Virginia, where good family counts for a great deal in the struggle of life. He had abundance of advantages. He might have been an influential, highly esteemed, useful citizen, a joy to his family, the pride of his friends. He was trained aright. But he scorned the teachings of a good mother and an upright father. He trod the primrose path. Even after he had married a modest, sweet, good woman he forsook not the haunts of infamy. The last shadow of excuse for his waywardness was removed when he married. Even then he might have "settled down" and made a man of himself. But the two wrong lives of Beattie and the Binford woman conspired to bring about an awful cataclysm of tragedy and ruin. Beattie murdered his wife in cold blood, with the unspcakable motive of having clear leeway to live dishonorably. The crime was fastened upon him. He went to the electric chair. The Binford woman has gone to New York and heaven only knows how many lives she may yet be at least the partial instrument of wrecking.

It were well if this were the ringing down of the curtain on the double tragedy. But it is not. Over in Delaware a fond father and mother mourn the murder of their daughter. Down in Virginia a devoted father, mother, sister and brother are under the pall of agonizing disgrace, heart-break and anguish over the downfall of Henry Clay Beattie. God only knows what that family has suffered and will suffer.

Young man, don't let anybody delude you with that siren voice in ex-cusing the sowing of wild oats. For the sake of the mother who bore you, the father whom you respect, the sister to whose cheeks you should never bring the blush of shame, ponder the awful story of Henry Clay Beattie and—

Live a decent, honorable life. Sow no wild oats to bring a crop of unutterable misery upon yourself and your loved ones.—Pasadena Star.

GOOD SCHOOLS ONE OF GREATEST MORAL AND MATERIAL ASSETS OF ANY COMMUNITY

By Jeremiah M. Rhodes, Superintendent Pasadena Schools
Would you know what Evolution is? Call it Progress. Would you know what Progress is? Call it Tomorrow. But evolution is a method merely, not a force. The force is supplied in the tomorrow of the Pasadena schools, through the splendid spirit of her citizens, the liberality of her taxpayers, and the intelligent and far-seeing administrative skill of her board of education. There is a combined effort of all the people of this community to make the schools of Pasadena second to none throughout the country, both in the superiority of the material equipment and in the professional skill and progressive spirit of the teachers.

A liberal policy has been adopted by the board of education in the matter of school grounds and school buildings. The board believes that ample provision should be made for the outdoor play activities of the children, and that schoolhouses should be models of convenience, capacity, safety and architectural beauty, the original cost being the matter of secondary consideration only; that a city's interest in her schools, and in large measure her achievements, are judged as well as measured by the appearance of her school grounds and school houses. During the past year several school sites have been enlarged and three new sites purchased; and in the same period additions have been made to the Andrew Jackson Lincoln, Washington, and Columbia schools. There is also in process of construction a handsome eight-room building on Washington street. This school house is to be a reinforced concrete structure, absolutely fireproof and modern in every particular. But the most marked material development of the year is found in the generous provision of the people for the erection of the high school group of buildings which, aside from being an ornament to the city, will be a model for progressive cities anxious to have the best schoolhouse grouping and construction. It is no vain boast to say that Pasadena will have as complete a high school plant as can be found anywhere in America. In these improvements, additions, buildings and equipment, the city has authorized the expenditure of five hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and there is every evidence that the money will be wisely and economically used.

The public school must develop the power to think; give an appreciation of the true, the noble and the beautiful; secure mastery of vigorous expression; and above all, develop a clear discrimination between right and wrong. In addition to these general powers adapted to the individual child in such a way that he will be able to find his sphere of influence in the world. We plan, therefore, not only in the high school itself, but throughout the grades as well, to increase human wealth through the education of the child—head, heart and hand—using the most progressive and best tried means known to the world. The measure of the school is to be found in the kind of women and men that it sends into the world's activities.

Japan, China and the United States

From the Christian Science Monitor

America has no friend among contemporary statesmen in Japan who holds ideals and national possibilities better than the statesman Komura, whose career has just closed. In future diplomatic relations between Japan and the United States they will feel the absence of this man, who since Ito's passing—and even before it—shaped the foreign policy of the insular empire. He was under obligations to the republic that he felt keenly. He knew many of its leading men as close friends. Honors from high political and academic sources had been bestowed upon him. Residence at Washington as well as at London, as ambassador, had been an educational process concerning western democracies' plans for the future; and it by treaty and in other ways the United States and Great Britain have been drawn nearer Japan during the past ten years, much of the credit is due to Jutaro Komura.

The departure from Tokyo for Shanghai of Henry Dennison, the veteran adviser of the Japanese government in its foreign policy, is of more importance than will be apparent on the face of the announcement. This American lawyer has a way of appearing where and when history is being made. He was at Portsmouth when Russia and Japan negotiated terms of peace that for a time made Komura the most unpopular man in Japan. Evidently Japan wishes, on the ground in China, a man who can utilize first-hand information and observation and advise wisely as to Japanese policy in the light of the confusion that now prevails.

In the light of the inferences of the striking paper read at the Worcester conference on Japanese affairs by Frederic McCormick, the American journalist stationed for so many years in Japan, it is somewhat difficult to account for the nominal complacency with which the American department of state is viewing developments in the far east. Of course, the actual attitude may be very different. Mr. McCormick credits most of the Chinese revolution to the radicalism of students educated in Japan. He also charges that Russia and Japan, carrying to a logical conclusion a secret compact made at Portsmouth and not disclosed to the United States until some years later and then under compulsion and by Russia and not by Japan, have formally agreed upon permanent retention of their respective spheres in Manchuria, and that, therefore, the partition of China has in effect begun, and the United States and the powers that have stood for the open door and preservation of China's entity now face Russia and Japan in league against them.

If there was this secret compact at Portsmouth, now known to the United States and of necessity shaping its future policy toward both Russia and Japan, then, of course, the American public also should know it. As with recent secret understandings in European diplomacy, that when revealed have complicated conditions and aroused national enmities, so this one also will no doubt prove to have been shortsighted. The rising standards of ethics for nations make against playing the game with craft. The Monitor prefers to believe, until convinced otherwise, that Japan has meant all her protestations of friendliness for the United States and for China, and her adherence to the "open door" policy.

For the Housewife
Beeswax rubbed over an iron, which is then polished on a paper or old cloth, will make the iron slip over the articles to be ironed very easily.

Should the iron become rough on the surface, rub it several times over table salt sprinkled on a paper.

Have a good sized pocket tacked on the under side of your ironing board, in which to keep the wax, polishing cloths, etc. Put a flap on the pocket that will button over, so when the board is moved the contents will not fall out.

When ironing silk, if you want it to be stiff, iron when it is quite damp; but if a soft finish is desired, allow the silk to become almost dry before touching an iron on it.

Laces and embroideries can be easily ironed by laying them wrong side up on a folded turkish towel.

If you will dissolve a small pinch of powdered alum and a teaspoonful of lard in the starch after it has been boiled, you will prevent it from sticking to the iron, thus preventing streaking the garments that have to be starched.

An end of a paraffine candle is a good substitute for beeswax for polishing irons.

Silver dress trimmings which have become discolored may be cleaned by covering them with dry powdered magnesia. Leave it for three hours, then rub it well with flannel, and brush off with a perfectly clean plate brush.

BAZAAR WEEK

Churches and Societies Will Offer Christmas Buyers a Real Opportunity

The ladies of the Church of the Messiah, who have been busy securing funds for a Guild Hall, will hold their annual bazaar on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 7, at Moose Hall (formerly known as Elks' Hall). A variety of fancy and useful articles will be on sale and tea will be served during the afternoon at a small price. The ladies will also serve dinner from 5:30 p. m. to 7 p. m., and their reputation for dinners is so well established that an excellent patronage will be enjoyed for the present one.

A chicken pie dinner will be served by the ladies of the First Christian church on Saturday noon, Dec. 9, at G. A. R. Hall. Everybody goes to a chicken pie dinner so that the ladies will doubtless have all they can attend to.

There will also be a bazaar in the afternoon at which there will be aprons and other useful articles for sale affording the Christmas buyer an opportunity to buy holiday gifts.

Travelers Number One

Mrs. H. R. Bristol was hostess yesterday to the members of Travelers Club, No. One, a goodly number being present to enjoy the pleasant meeting. Mrs. Bristol soon leaves for the north, probably to spend the winter, so that both she and her guests were glad to spend the afternoon together. Indeed, it will be some weeks before the club assembles again, the next meeting not to occur until after the holidays are all over, on the third Monday in January.

Yesterday's reading was of Finland and the great Russian railway over which some of the most magnificent railway trains in the world are run. The members hugely enjoyed reading of these strange foreign lands with which comparatively few are very familiar.

Mrs. Bristol served a supper menu, the ladies being seated at the small table where hot biscuit, croquettes, olives, coffee and cake were enjoyed while the ladies engaged in cheerful conversation.

Alta Vista House Party

A jolly party of young people returned yesterday from Alta Vista where they were the guests of Miss Edith Wells at a house party of several days duration.

The party consisted of the Misses Edith Wells, Virgil Potts, Nellie Bacon, Hazel Rowley, Josephine McCrory, Nancy Elder, Messrs. Stanley White, Lynn Shrewsbury, Glenn Tidball and Charles Tidball, with Mrs. A. R. Rowley as chaperone.

It doesn't take much money to pay for a full course in the Orange County Conservatory of Music. Let us send you a catalogue and prove it.

Don't forget the lecture in Spurgon's Hall, Thursday evening, under the auspices of the First M. E. Baraca class.

Amphion Circle

The Amphion Circle will meet Thursday afternoon, Dec. 7, with Miss Celia Cotter, Mission Apartments, corner Fifth and Main streets, entrance on Fifth street.

All members requested to be present as final plans are to be made for the December bazaar.

Parents and Teachers to Meet

A meeting of this association which has been looked forward to with much interest for some time because it was to be an evening meeting that the fathers as well as the mothers might attend, will take place at the City Hall, Chamber of Commerce room Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The pros and cons of the night school will be discussed. Let every one whether interested or not attend this meeting. Addresses will be given by Rev. W. L. C. Samson, C. C. Collins, Dr. Dobson, Supt. J. A. Cranston and H. Clay Kellogg. "Manual Training" will be discussed by Prof. Albert M. Shaw, and Miss Hington will give a paper on "Household Economics."

Had Large Family

Los Angeles Tribune: Sixty-five nephews and nieces—that is the number claimed for the late Mrs. Ramona de la Guerra, who passed away in October of this year at Yorba.

Mrs. de la Guerra was the daughter of Don Thomas Yorba, who lived before California was thickly populated with Americans. At one time he was named as among the wealthiest men of the Pacific Coast, having inherited the Santiago de Santa Ana Rancho grant of 65,000 acres in Orange county. There remains of the original grant, still in possession of the Yorba family, something like 2500 acres, and it was on this rancho, about eight miles from Anaheim, that Mrs. de la Guerra passed her last days. Her descendants are scattered throughout Southern California, and represent an old Spanish family very influential in early times.

Personals

PRISON CELLS FOR M'NAMARAS

chair, before Fredericks was on his feet moving the sentence of John J. McNamara. The latter stood up as Judge Bordwell read the indictment charging him with dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works. The face of the big labor leader was a curious study as he stood gazing first at the judge on the bench and then at the lawyers.

John's eyes were deep and sunken, and deep lines, appearing in his face since he admitted his guilt, seem to have been accentuated. Judge Bordwell sharply demanded of District Attorney Fredericks whether he had any recommendation to make. Fredericks then made the same plea as he had made in the case of James. Judge Bordwell immediately imposed a fifteen-year sentence, repeating much the same exhortation as he had given to James, but adding:

"You are fully as guilty as he, and deserve absolutely no consideration at the hands of the court. But as you have pleaded guilty I will make the concession suggested by the district attorney and impose a moderate sentence."

Then, at a signal from the judge, Sheriff Hammell and his deputies closed about the two men and they were hurried out of the court room, back to the jail. During the entire court proceedings not a single move was made by any of the counsel for the defense, although all, excepting Job Harriman, were present in the room.

Both prisoners had given way when they were face to face with what was coming, and there was also the uncertainty at the last moment that Judge

Bordwell might block the entire agreement, and impose the maximum sentence, death for one brother and life imprisonment for the other. Finally, however, word came and the men, hurriedly handcuffed, were rushed across the "bridge of sighs" into the little court room of the hall of justice.

Attorney Darrow sat through the entire proceeding with his eyes fixed on the wall. The outcome was his first defeat in a long career as a criminal and labor lawyer. He had saved the lives of his clients and had insisted on saving the lives of many other persons, but the outcome was a bitter disappointment. Attorney Le Compte Davis was the most unconcerned of the two. He had had his ups and downs, and accepted the result philosophically. Attorney Joseph Scott was much broken up. He has been close to the two prisoners, and he, more than anyone else, realized that until sentence had actually been imposed that there was always the chance of a slip.

CAPLAN UNDER SURVEILLANCE TO BE ARRESTED WHEN NEEDED
PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 5.—Otto Kulper, local superintendent of the Burns detective agency, today admitted that David Caplan, wanted for aiding in dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building, is under surveillance in the Middle West, and would be arrested soon as the authorities were prepared to handle the case.

REMARKABLE PRECAUTIONS IN GUARDING McNAMARAS
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Chief of County Detectives Samuel L. Browne, and a picked force of men were stationed in the doorway of Judge Bordwell's court today and every man permitted to enter was personally searched for weapons by Browne. He stated that he had received information that an attempt might be made to shoot the McNamaras while they were being sentenced, so he took these precautions, the most remarkable in the history of any criminal trial in this vicinity. Judge Bordwell arrived at the courtroom at 10:15 and at 10:20 the McNamaras, handcuffed to the sheriff and his assistant, entered the ante-room of the court house. The crowd about the hall of justice, where the men were sentenced and in the corridors of the building were so large that the sheriff was compelled to send a hurry call for more deputies and police.

U. S. ORDERS MILITARY BIPLANE FROM CURTISS

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 5.—Glenn Curtiss, here with his winter school of aviation, yesterday received from the war department an order for a two-passenger biplane of the military type.

Curtiss today sent a formal invitation to the war department to send designated officers of the army of the department of California to San Diego to receive instructions. According to Curtiss, selection of the officers is to be made by Gen. Bell.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Saves Worry, Saves Money, Saves the Hair

—If you want to free your head of dandruff and stop falling hair, you must sooner or later resort to Newbro's Herpicide.

By using Herpicide first you save yourself worry, which is desirable, you save money, which is a consideration, and you save your hair, which is the most important of all.

Why not profit by the experience of Mrs. S. A. Lee, of 10 South Fourth street, Richmond, Va., who writes:

"Four years' residence in India ruined my hair until it was but two inches long and very thin. I tried everything in Europe and America without benefit until I was induced to use Herpicide. My hair is now long, soft and silky and natural color, while before it was quite gray. My friends never tire of admiring my hair."

Mrs. Lee's story is a typical history of hair troubles. After everything else fails Newbro's Herpicide brings relief. It would be just as effective if used first.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and prevents falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. No matter what the claims of others, Herpicide is the only genuine original dandruff germ destroyer.

One dollar size bottles guaranteed. Sold by all druggists. Applications at good barber shops.

Send 10c for sample bottle to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. Rowley Drug Co., Santa Ana, and Tustin Drug Store, Tustin, special agents.

FIRST DE LUXE TRAIN ON WAY TO PACIFIC COAST
Los Angeles Tribune: The first de luxe train from New Orleans to Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific left yesterday at 12:30 p. m. and will arrive in Los Angeles Wednesday at 8:45 p. m., cutting fourteen hours and fifteen minutes from the time of the former fastest trains over this route. The train is scheduled to run between the two cities in fifty-seven hours and five minutes. The first de luxe leaving Los Angeles for New Orleans will depart Wednesday at 8:15 a. m.

BAD STOMACHS PUT IN ORDER

No Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Five Minutes Later

—If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50 cent cases, then you will understand why dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why Diapiesin always relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapiesin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

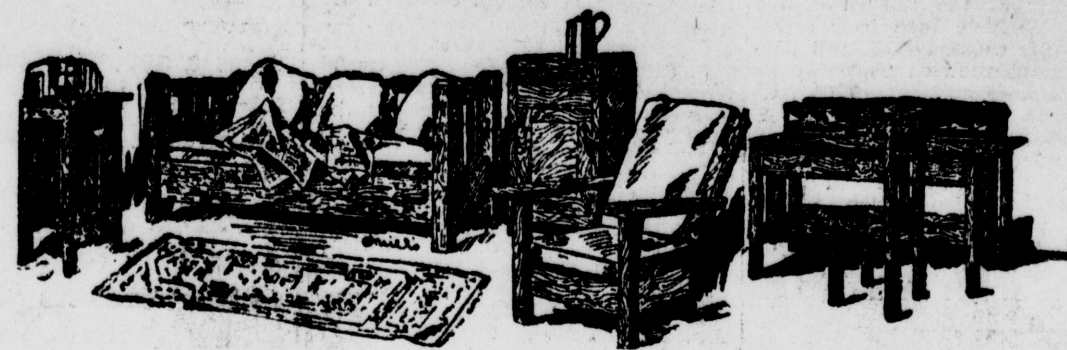

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some Pape's Diapiesin now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.

SEC. OF INTERIOR FISHER WANTS $50,000 FOR PROBE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Secretary Fisher of the department of the interior intends to ask congress for an appropriation of $50,000 to be used by the bureau of mines for an investigation of the coal fields of Alaska. This is one of the preliminary steps taken by Mr. Fisher in endeavoring to open the resources of Alaska to the people of the United States. If congress grants the money an expedition will be fitted out by the bureau of mines and the great Matanuska and Bering river coal fields will be visited.

Make This a Sensible CHRISTMAS

Furniture is the most Appropriate of all Sensible gifts

IT IS hardly necessary for us to more than suggest the pleasure that a good piece of furniture would give if presented as a gift. You are undoubtedly more or less puzzled as to what you shall give this year that will convey the real Christmas sentiment—that will be a lasting remembrance of you and the source of much genuine satisfaction and pleasure to the recipient for years to come. Settle the question by giving furniture, but be sure that you give GOOD FURNITURE. If it comes from the Liebig & Johnson Store it WILL be good furniture—satisfactory alike to buyer and the person who receives it. The Cause of Constipation

Constipation is, in some cases, the direct result from a torpid or slow acting Liver, brought about by the withholding of the flow of bile. The condition is commonly allied with more or less indigestion and dyspepsia, partly due to the constipation itself.

Many persons have found it comparatively easy to overcome such conditions with a treatment of Rexall Liver Salts.

In our judgment, we feel that this preparation is remarkably well fitted to overcome these conditions, and recommend them to you with the understanding that any money you may have spent with us for the preparation will be refunded in case there are no beneficial results.

A Newsboy's Contribution

"Here's a penny for the Anti-Tuberculosis League," said a little newsboy, stepping up to the visiting nurse of a western league, who was selling the Red Cross Christmas seals in one of the moving picture theaters.

"Here, take one of the seals," said the nurse, as the boy dropped the penny in front of her.

"Aw, I ain't got no use for de seal, but I wants to give youse de penny 'cause youse did so much good for me mudder," replied the lad, running away before he could be questioned further.

Feeding the Calf

Calfs cannot be kept looking well or doing their best when fed dry feed alone, especially if they are allowed to stuff themselves with hay. If they run with their dams and have plenty of green grass they are at their best. In the absence of grass the silo will supply the best substitute and alfalfa hay the next best.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 5, 1911.

IF THE P. E. DOES NOT DO THE STREET REPAIR WORK CITY WILL AND P. E. PAY

Resolutions Passed Calls for Immediate Action on the Part of the Railway—Pacific Phone Asked to Seek Franchise
—City Clerk Tedford Will Resign Office Next Monday Night, to Take Effect Jan. 1—Finley Finds Records in Engineer's Office.

Unless the Pacific Electric gets busy in the repair of Fourth and Main streets and stays busy, the city will proceed under the franchise. The city can employ men to do the work and charge it up to the railway company.

A demand is to be made that the Pacific Telephone Co. take out a franchise.

The intention of the trustees to stand for no further delays was expressed in a resolution passed at the meeting of the City Trustees last night. At that meeting City Clerk Tedford gave notice that he will resign next Monday evening. There are a number of candidates for the appointment, among whom are G. A. Whidden, John Carlyle and W. F. Menton.

Last night's meeting was a lengthy one, beginning at 7:30 o'clock and adjourning at 11:10 o'clock.

To Be of Cedar
Alderman reported that Los Angeles is using creosote paving block for bridge floor on top of a 4-inch redwood floor. The cost there is 31 cents per square foot for the blocks. One bridge in Los Angeles was laid in 1904 and is just now needing some repair. Alderman doubted if the Main street bridge would bear the weight of an oil and gravel floor. Owing to the high cost of the creosote blocks, he recommended that 4-inch cedar be used. Bids for that lumber were ordered called for.

Greenleaf recommended that the city grant the request of the fire department for additional fire alarm apparatus. Bids for the apparatus are called for.

Pass Resolution
M. Nisson said North Main in front of his place is in a dangerous condition because all the travel is on the west side, the P. E. not having completed its work on the street. He said he had had narrow escapes.

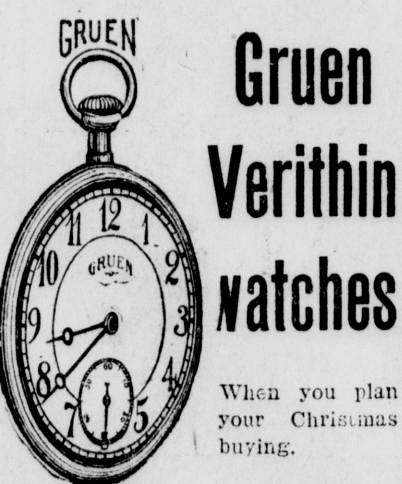

McPhee said the P. E. has full possession and has maintained a serious condition on that street.

"We have courteously asked the P. E. to attend to the work," said McPhee, "and we have had smooth answers, but smooth answers do not fill holes. I therefore offer the following resolution:

"Resolved, by the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana that touching the matter of the fulfillment of the agreement between the city of Santa Ana and the Pacific Electric Railway to repair the rights of way of said company on East Fourth street, West Fourth street and North Main street in the city of Santa Ana, duties devolving upon said railway company under its several franchises from this city; that said board of trustees has treated said company with every courtesy in the past and has endeavored to make every allowance to excuse the failure of said company to live up to the promises made by its officers for said company, but since this city has been so far disappointed by the failure or neglect of said company to repair said streets, therefore,

"Be it further resolved, that unless said Pacific Electric Railway company shall take steps within a reasonable time, say ten days after the mailing of a certified copy of this resolution,

Two Points to Remember

There are two arguments in favor of the Polytechnic school bonds which should be sufficient to induce our citizens to support them, even if there were no other reasons to consider, namely:

1. Santa Ana is absolutely the only city of any size in Southern California which has not either a Polytechnic (or mechanical trades) school in operation, or has voted bonds for that purpose. We cannot afford to allow our city to remain in this position.

2. This is the first opportunity Santa Ana has ever had to do anything, in a public way, that would excite any especial attention. We have been characterized as a "slow town" on this account.

Here is a chance to do something big—something really worth while—and do it right. The carrying of these bonds cannot fail to establish a reputation for enterprise.

could expect. If Bates left proper data there I want to know it, for I said he had not left the records, and I want to treat him fairly."

"I think they are all there; as far as I have seen they are," said Finley.

J. E. Peterson asked for a permit for a lunch counter on the street in front of 412 North Main street. The petition was denied, owing to the location on a congested street.

S. H. Finley's $1000 bond as city engineer with a bonding company as surety was accepted.

An ordinance starting the Vrooman Act proceedings for sewers in the Pacific Electric tract was given first reading.

The Medical Society invited the City Trustees to attend the meeting tonight (Tuesday) at the Library when Dr. Dryer will read a paper on "Disease and Its Causes."

Minter Resigns
The resignation of G. W. Minter as park commissioner was accepted.

The city attorney was given leave of absence for two days to go to Riverside county.

The sale of a horse for $75 was authorized.

Grubb recommended that street crossings of crushed rock and oil be put down where needed.

As crushed rock is hard to get, Grubb suggested that a committee might see if the city can establish a crusher.

The city clerk is to see if crushed rock can be purchased soon.

A rubber stamp is to be bought to stamp all city property.

H. Andre stated that in time of heavy rain people cannot cross South Main street without getting their feet wet. He suggested distributing the drain so that the water does not all go down South Main.

Ey said he thought nothing could be done now.

That Franchise
Ey said the Pacific Telephone Co. is now ready to take out a franchise at Pasadena.

Heathman said Santa Ana is now in a position to demand that the company take out a franchise. On McPhee's motion, the city attorney was instructed to demand that a franchise be applied for.

Ey said he would favor no franchise for more than twenty-one years.

Resigns Monday
City Clerk Tedford: "I will hand in my resignation next Monday night, and would like the board to appoint my successor at that time, so that I can put him on to the running of the office. I probably will have the resignation take effect on January 1."

Water and Sewer Superintendent Reid reported that sellers of sewer pipe would not bid against each other, and Reid, Grubb and Alderman were authorized to buy pipe without bids, the pipe to be used on West Walnut.

The city agreed to pay for a telephone at the home of Second Engineer Hull of the water works.

Reid stated that a pump would have to be rigged up to force oil through the pipeline to the city tanks.

The board adjourned until next Monday night.

DANDRUFF AND ITCHING SCALP YIELD TO ZEMO TREATMENT

—Why should you continue to experiment with salves, greasy lotions and fancy hair dressings trying to rid your scalp of germ life. They can't do it because they cannot penetrate to the seat of the trouble and draw the germ life to the surface of the scalp and destroy it.

Why not try a PROVEN REMEDY? One that will do this. We have a remedy that will rid the scalp of germ life and in this way will cure DANDRUFF AND ITCHING SCALP.

This remedy is ZEMO, a clean, refined, penetrating scalp tonic that goes right to the seat of the trouble and drives the germ life to the surface and destroys it.

A shampoo with ZEMO (ANTI-SEPTIC) SOAP and one application of ZEMO will entirely rid the scalp of dandruff and scurf. Do not hesitate, but get a bottle of ZEMO today. It acts on a new principle and will do exactly what we claim for it.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders

—A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Reall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant, and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Reall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and aid in producing a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea, or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons, or old folks. Three sizes, 10c, 25c, and 50c. Sold only at our store—The Reall Store, Dean's Drug Store, 104 West Fourth street.

ANTI-TRUST MESSAGE SEND TO CONGRESS TODAY BY TAFT

that the court excepted from the operation of the statute were instances which, at common law, would have been called reasonable. In the standard Oil and Tobacco cases, therefore, the court merely adopted the tests of the common law, and in defining exceptions to the literal application of the statute, only substituted for the test of being incidental or indirect, that of being reasonable, and, this, without varying in the slightest the actual scope and effect of the statute. In other words, all the cases under the statute which have now been decided would have been decided the same way if the court had originally accepted in its construction the rule at common law.

It has been said that the court, by introducing into the construction of the statute common law distinctions, has emasculated it. This is obviously untrue. By its judgment every contract and combination in restraint of interstate trade made with the purpose of necessary effect of controlling prices by stifling competition, or of establishing in whole or in part a monopoly of such trade, is condemned by the statute. The most extreme critics can not instance a case that ought to be condemned under the statute which is not brought within its terms as thus construed.

The suggestion is also made that the supreme court by its decision in the last two cases has committed to the court the undefined and unlimited discretion to determine whether a case of restraint of trade is within the terms of the statute. This is wholly untrue. A reasonable restraint of trade at common law is well understood and is clearly defined. It does not rest in the discretion of the court. It must be limited to accomplish the purpose of a lawful main contract to which, in order that it shall be enforceable at all, it must be incidental. If it exceeds the needs of that contract, it is void.

The test of reasonableness was never applied by the court at common law to contracts or combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade whose purpose was or whose necessary effect would be to stifle competition, to control prices, or establish monopolies. The courts never assumed power to say that such contracts or combinations or conspiracies might be lawful if the parties to them were only moderate in the use of the power thus secured and did not exact from the public too great and exorbitant prices. It is true that many theorists, and others engaged in business violating the statute, have hoped that some such line could be drawn by courts; but no court of authority has ever attempted it. Certainly there is nothing in the decisions of the latest two cases from which such a dangerous theory of judicial discretion in enforcing this statute can derive the slightest sanction.

Force and Effectiveness of Statute a Matter of Growth

We have been twenty-one years making this statute effective for the purposes for which it was enacted. The Knight case was discouraging and seemed to remit to the states the whole available power to attack and suppress the evils of the trusts. Slowly, however, the error of that judgment was corrected, and only in the last three or four years has the heavy hand of law been laid upon the great illegal combinations that have exercised such an absolute dominion over many of the industries. Criminal prosecutions have been brought and a number are pending, but juries have felt averse to convicting for jail sentences, and judges have been most reluctant to impose such sentences on men of respectable standing in society whose offense has been regarded as merely statutory. Still, as the offense becomes better understood and the committing of it partakes more of studied and deliberate defiance of the law, we can be confident that juries will convict individuals and that jail sentences will be imposed.

The Remedy in Equity by Dissolution

In the Standard Oil case the supreme and circuit courts found the combination to be a monopoly of the interstate business of refining, transporting and marketing petroleum and its products, effected and maintained through thirty-seven different corporations, the stock of which was held by a New Jersey company. It in effect commanded the dissolution of this combination, directed the transfer and pro rata distribution by the New Jersey company of the stock held by it in the thirty-seven corporations to and among its stockholders; and the corporations and individual defendants were enjoined from conspiring or combining to restore such monopoly; and an agreement between the subsidiary corporations tending to produce or bring about further violations of the act were enjoined.

In the Tobacco case, the court found that the individual defendants, twenty-nine in number, had been engaged in a successful effort to acquire complete dominion over the manufacture, sale, and distribution of tobacco in this country and abroad, and that this had been done by combinations made with a purpose and effect to stifle competition, control prices, and establish a monopoly, not only in the manufacture of tobacco, but also of tin-foil and licorice used in its manufacture and of its products of cigars, cigarettes and snuffs. The tobacco suit presented a far more complicated and difficult case than the Standard Oil suit for a decree which would effectuate the will of the court and end the violation of the statute. There was here no single holding company as in the case of the Standard Oil trust. The main company was the American Tobacco Company, a manufacturing, selling and holding company. The plan adopted to destroy the combination and restore competition involved the redistribution of the capital and plants of the whole trust between some of the companies constituting the trust and new companies organized for the purpose of the decree and made parties to it, and numbering, new and old, fourteen.

Situation After Readjustment

The American Tobacco Company, (old), readjusted capital, $92,000,000; the Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Company (new), capital, $67,000,000; the P. Lorillard Company (new), capital, $47,000,000; and the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company (old), capital, $7,525,000, are chiefly engaged in the manufacture and sale of chewing and smoking tobacco and cigars. The former one tin-foil company is divided into two, one of $825,000 capital and the other of $400,000. The one snuff company is divided into three companies, one with a capital of $15,000,000, another with a capital of $8,000,000, and a third, with a capital of $8,000,000. The licorice companies are two, one with a capital of $5,758,200 and another with a capital of $2,000,000. There is also, the British-American Tobacco Company, a British corporation, doing business abroad with a capital of $26,000,000, the Porto Rican Tobacco Company, with a capital of $1,800,000, and the corporation of the United Cigar Stores, with a capital of $9,000,000.

Under this arrangement, each of the different kinds of business will be distributed between two or more companies with a division of the prominent brands in the same tobacco products so as to make competition not only possible but necessary. Thus the smoking-tobacco business of the country is divided so that the present independent companies have 21.23 per cent, while the American Tobacco Company will have 33.08 per cent, the Liggett & Meyers 20.05 per cent, the Lorillard Company 22.82 per cent, and the Reynolds Company 2.66 per cent. The stock of the other thirteen companies, both preferred and common, has been taken from the defendant American Tobacco Company and has been distributed among its stockholders. All covenants restricting competition have been declared null and further performance of them has been enjoined. The preferred stock of the different companies has now been given voting power which was denied it under the old organization. The ratio of the preferred stock to the common was as 78 to 40. This constitutes a very decided change in the character of the ownership and control of each company.

In the original suit there were twenty-nine defendants who were charged with being the conspirators through whom the illegal combination acquired and exercised its unlawful dominion. Under the decree these defendants will hold amounts of stock in the various distributee companies ranging from 41 per cent as a maximum to 28½ per cent as a minimum except in the case of one small company, in which they hold 45 per cent. The twenty-nine individual defendants are enjoined for three years from buying any stock except from each other, and the group is thus prevented from extending its control during that period. All parties to the suit, and the new companies who are made parties, are enjoined perpetually from in any way any of the companies in violation of the statute by way of resumption of the old trust. Each of the fourteen companies is enjoined from acquiring stock in any of the others. All these companies are enjoined from having common directors or officers, or common buying or selling agents, or common offices, or lending money to each other.

Size of New Companies

Objection was made by certain independent tobacco companies that this settlement was unjust because it left companies with very large capital in active business, and that the settlement that would be effective to put all on an equality would be a division of the capital and plant of the trust into small fractions in amount nearly equal to that of each of the independent companies. This contention results from a misunderstanding of the anti-trust law and its purposes. It is not intended thereby to prevent the accumulation of large capital in business enterprises in which such a combination can secure reduced cost of production sale, and distribution.

It is directed against such an aggregation of capital only when its purpose is still of stifling competition, enhancing or controlling prices, and establishing a monopoly. If we shall have by the decree defeated these purposes and restored competition between the large units into which the capital and plant have been divided, we shall have accomplished the useful purpose of the statute.

Confiscation Not the Purpose of the Statute

It is not the purpose of the statute to confiscate the property and capital of the offending trusts. Methods of punishment by fine or imprisonment of the individual offenders, by fine of the corporation or by forfeiture of its goods in transportation are provided, but the proceeding in equity is a specific remedy to stop the operation of the trust by injunction and prevent the future use of the plant and capital in violation of the statute.

Effectiveness of Decree

I venture to say that not in the history of American law has a decree more effective for such a purpose been entered by a court than that against the Tobacco trust. As Circuit Judge Noyes said in his judgment approving the decree:

"The extent to which it has been necessary to tear apart this combination and force it into new forms with the attendant burdens ought to demonstrate that the federal anti-trust statute is a drastic statute which accomplishes effective results; which so long as it stands on the statute books must be obeyed, and which can not be disobeyed without incurring far-reaching penalties. And, on the other side of this organization should teach that the effect of enforcing this statute is not to destroy, but to reconstruct; not to demolish, but to re-create in accordance with the conditions which the congress has declared shall exist among the people of the United States."

Common-Stock Ownership

It has been assumed that the present pro rata and common ownership in all these companies by former stockholders of the trust would insure a continuance of the same old single control of the companies into which the trust has by decree been disintegrated. This is erroneous and is based upon the assumed inefficiency and inaccomplishment of judicial injunctions. The companies are enjoined from cooperation or combination; they have different managers, directors, purchasing and sales agents. If all or many of the numerous stockholders, reaching into the thousands, attempt to secure concerted action of the companies with a view to the control of the market, their number is so large that such an attempt could not be well concealed, and its prime movers and all its participants would be at once subject to contempt proceedings and imprisonment of a summary character. The immediate result of the present situation will necessarily be activity by all the companies under different managers, and then competition must follow, or there will be activity by one company and stagnation by another. Only a short time will inevitably lead to a change in ownership of the stock, as all opportunity for continued co-operation must disappear. Those critics who speak of this disintegration in the trust as a mere change of arms have not given consideration to the inevitable working of the decree and understand little the personal danger of attempting to evade or set at naught the solemn injunction of a court whose object is made plain by the decree and whose inhibitions are set forth with a detail and comprehensiveness unexampled in the history of equity jurisprudence.

Voluntary Reorganization of Other Trusts at Hand

The effect of these two decisions has led to decrees dissolving the combination of manufacturers of electric lamps, a southern wholesale grocers' association, an interlocutory decree against the powder trust with directions by the circuit court compelling dissolution, and other combinations of a similar history are now negotiating with the department of justice looking to a disintegration by decree and reorganization in accordance with law. It seems possible to bring about these reorganizations without general business disturbance.

Movement for Repeal of the Anti-Trust Law

But now that the anti-trust act is seen to be effective for the accomplishment of the purpose of its enactment, we are met by a cry from many different quarters for its repeal. It is said to be obstructive of business progress, to be an attempt to restore old-fashioned methods of destructive competition between small units, and to make impossible those useful combinations of capital and the reduction of the cost of production that are essential to continued prosperity and normal growth.

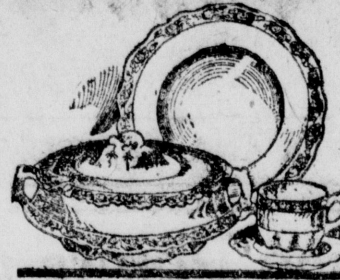

In the recent decisions the supreme court makes clear that there is nothing in the statute which condemns combinations of capital or mere bigness of plant organized to secure economy in production and a reduction of its cost. It is only when the purpose or necessary effect of the organization and maintenance of the combination is the stifling of competition, actual and potential, and the enhancing of prices and establishing a monopoly, that the statute is violated. Mere size is no sin against the law. The merging of two or more business plants necessarily eliminates competition between the units thus combined, but this elimination is in contravention of the statute only when the combination is made for purpose of ending this particular competition in order to secure control of, and enhance, prices and create a monopoly.

Lack of Definiteness in The Statute

The complaint is made of the statute that it is not sufficiently definite in its description of that which is forbidden, to enable business men to avoid its violation. The suggestion is, that we may have a combination of two corporations, which may run on for years, and that subsequently the Attorney General may conclude that it was a violation of the statute, and that which was supposed by the combiners to be innocent then turns out to be a combination in violation of the statute. The answer to this hypothetical case is that when men attempt to amass such stupendous capital as will enable them to suppress competition, control prices and establish a monopoly, they know the clusive contracts with customers under which they are required to give up association with other manufacturers, and numerous kindred methods for stifling competition and effecting monopoly, should be described with sufficient accuracy in a criminal statute on the one hand to enable the government to shorten its task by prosecuting single misdoers instead of an entire conspiracy, and, on the other hand, to serve the purpose of pointing out more in detail to the business community what must be avoided.

Federal Incorporation Recommended
In a special message to Congress on January 7, 1910, I ventured to point out the disturbance to business that would probably attend the dissolution of these offending trusts. I said:

"But such an investigation and possible prosecution of corporations whose prosperity or destruction affects the comfort not only of stockholders but of millions of wage earners, employees, and associated tradesmen must necessarily tend to diminish the confidence of the business community, to dry up the now flowing sources of capital from its places of hoarding, and produce a halt in our present prosperity that will cause suffering and strained circumstances among the innocent many for the faults of the guilty few. The question which I wish in this message to bring clearly to the consideration and discussion of congress is whether in order to avoid such a possible business danger, something can not be done by which these business combinations may be offered a means, without great financial disturbance, of changing the character, organization, and extent of their business into one within the lines of the law under Federal control and supervision, securing compliance with the anti-trust statute."

"Generally, in the industrial combinations called 'trusts,' the principal business is the sale of goods in many states and in foreign markets; in other words, the interstate and foreign business far exceeds the business done in any one state. This fact will justify the Federal government in granting a Federal charter to such a combination to make and sell in interstate and foreign commerce the products of useful manufacture, under such limitations as will secure a compliance with the anti-trust law. It is possible so to frame a statute that while it offers protection to a Federal company against harmful, vexatious, and unnecessary invasion by the states, it shall subject it to reasonable taxation and control by the states with respect to its purely local business."

"Corporations organized under this act should be prohibited from acquiring and holding stock in other corporations, except for special reasons."

French Breakfast Rolls

(Recipe by Mrs. Sara Tyson Rorer)
One pint milk; two ounces Cottoleone; one teaspoonful salt; one pound flour; one egg; one-half cup yeast, or one-half cake yeast dissolved.

Scald the milk and cut into it the Cottoleone, add salt, and when cool sift in the flour; add a well-beaten egg and the yeast. Beat well and stand in a warm place over night. In the morning form into little rolls, handling as little as possible, adding a very little flour. Place each roll in a French roll pan, stand in warm place three-quarters of an hour and bake in quick oven about fifteen minutes.

Everyone likes these light, puffy rolls; Cottoleone gives just as fine results as if you used butter, and at less expense.

upon approval by the proper Federal authority, thus avoiding the creation under national auspices of the holding company with subordinate corporations in different states, which has been such an effective agency in the creations of the great trusts and monopolies.

"If the prohibition of the anti-trust act against combinations in restraint of trade is to be effectively enforced, it is essential that the National Government shall provide for the creations of national corporations to carry on a legitimate business throughout the United States. The conflict-laws of the different states of the union with respect to foreign corporations make it difficult, if not impossible, for one corporation to comply with their requirements so as to carry on business in a number of different states."

I renew the recommendation of the enactment of a general law providing for the voluntary formation of corporations to engage in trade and commerce among the states and with foreign nations. Every argument which was then advanced for such a law, and every explanation which was at that time offered to possible objections, have been confirmed by our experience since the enforcement of the anti-trust statute has resulted in the actual dissolution of active commercial organizations.

It is even more manifest now than it was then that the denunciation of conspiracies in restraint of trade should not and does not mean the denial of organizations large enough to be entrusted with our interstate and foreign trade. It has been made more clear now than it was then that a purely negative statute like the anti-trust law may well be supplemented by specific provisions for the building up and regulation of legitimate national and foreign commerce.

Government Administrative Experts Needed to Aid Courts in Trust Dissolutions

The drafting of the decrees in the dissolution of the present trusts, with a view to their reorganization into legitimate corporations, has made it especially apparent that the courts are not provided with the administrative machinery to make the necessary inquiries preparatory to reorganization, or to pursue such inquiries, and they should be empowered to invoke the aid of the Bureau of Corporations in determining the suitable reorganization of the disintegrated parts. The circuit court and the Attorney General were greatly aided in framing the decree in the Tobacco Trust dissolution by an expert from the Bureau of Corporations.

Federal Corporation Commission Proposed

I do not set forth in detail the terms and sections of a statute which might supply the constructive legislation permitting and aiding the formation of combinations of capital into Federal corporations. They should be subject to rigid rules as to their organization and procedure, including effective publicity, and to the closest supervision as to the issue of stock and bonds by an executive bureau or commission in the Department of Commerce and Labor, to which in times of doubt they might well submit their proposed plans for future business. It must be distinctly understood that incorporation under a Federal law could not exempt the company thus formed and its incorporators and managers from prosecution under the anti-trust law for subsequent illegal conduct, but the publicity of its procedure and the opportunity for frequent consultation with the bureau or commission in charge of the incorporation as to the legitimate purpose of its transactions would offer it as great security against successful prosecutions for violations of the law as would be practical or wise.

Such a bureau or commission might well be invested also with the duty already referred to of aiding courts in the dissolution and re-creation of trusts within the law. It should be an executive tribunal of the dignity and power of the Comptroller of the Currency or the Interstate Commerce Commission, which now exercise supervisory power over important classes of corporations under Federal regulation.

The drafting of such a Federal incorporation law would offer ample opportunity to prevent many manifest evils in corporate management today, including irresponsibility of control in the hands of the few who are not the real owners.

Incorporation Voluntary

I recommend that the Federal charters thus to be granted shall be voluntary, at least until experience justifies mandatory provisions. The benefit to be derived from the operation of great businesses under the protection of such a charter would attract all who are anxious to keep within the lines of the law. Other large combinations that fail to take advantage of the Federal incorporation will not have a right to complain if their failure is ascribed to unwillingness to submit their transactions to the careful official scrutiny, competent supervision and publicity attendant upon the enjoyment of such a charter.

Only Supplemental Legislation Needed

The opportunity thus suggested for Federal incorporation, it seems to me, is suitable constructive legislation needed to facilitate the squaring of great industrial enterprises to the rule of action laid down by the anti-trust law. This statute as construed by the Supreme Court must continue to be the line of distinction for legitimate business. It must be enforced, unless we are to banish individualism from all business and reduce it to one common system of regulation or control of prices like that which now prevails with respect to public utilities, and which when applied to all business would be a long step toward state socialism.

Importance of the Anti-Trust Act

The anti-trust act is the expression of the effort of a freedom-loving people to preserve equality of opportunity. It is the result of the confident determination of such a people to maintain their future growth by preserving uncontrolled and unrestricted the enterprise of the individual, his industry, his ingenuity, his intelligence, and his independent courage.

For twenty years or more this statute has been upon the statute book. All knew its general purpose and approved. Many of its violators were cynical over its assumed impotence. It seemed impossible of enforcement. Slowly the mills of the courts ground, and only gradually did the majesty of the law assert itself. Many of its statesmen-authors died before it became a living force, and they and others saw the evil grow which they had hoped to destroy. Now its efficacy is seen; now its power is heavy; now its object is near achievement. Now we hear the call for its repeal on the plea that it interferes with business prosperity, an we are advised in most general terms, how by some other statute and in some other way the evil we are just stamping out can be cured, if we only abandon this work of twenty years and try another experiment for another term of years.

It is said that the act has not done good. Can this be said in the face of the effect of the Northern Securities decree? That decree was in no way so drastic or inhibitive in detail as either the Standard Oil decree or the Tobacco decree; but did it not stop for all time the then powerful movement toward the control of all the railroads of the country in a single hand? Such a one-man power could not have been a healthful influence in the Republic, even though exercised under the general supervision of an interstate commission.

Do we desire to make such ruthless combinations and monopolies lawful? When all energies are directed, not toward the reduction of the cost of production for the public benefit by a healthful competition, but toward new ways and means for making permanent in a few hands the absolute control of the conditions and prices prevailing in the whole field of industry, then individual enterprise and effort will be paralyzed and the spirit of commercial freedom will be dead.

"THE PANAMA CANAL FREE TO SHIPPING OF WORLD"

Director John Barrett Declares That Waterway's Usefulness To U. S. Would Come That Way

Director John Barrett of the Pan-American Union, gives in answer to a wholesale inquiry as to his opinion on the question of tolls for the Panama canal, a statement of which the article below is a summary. Mr. Barrett's views are based in his study of the Panama canal and of Pan-American and Pacific commerce during a period of eighteen years during which he has served as U. S. minister in Asiatic and South American countries and as head of the Pan-American Union, an international organization for the development of commerce and friendship between all the Americas. Mr. Barrett says:

"The Panama canal, to prove of the greatest practical usefulness to the United States, should be free to the shipping and commerce not only of the United States, but of the world. Legislation to this effect by congress, at its approaching session, would insure the immediate, complete and permanent success of this waterway, as a new route of international and national commerce. It would inaugurate, upon the day following its approval, the greatest activity in preparation for the canal the world has known in the history of shipping and commerce. It would end at once all doubts and discussions as to the tolls and the grave problems of preferential treatment of the American vessels, as they effect our treaty obligations to other countries.

"If the United States would experience the largest benefits possible to its foreign commerce from the Panama canal, it will make its interoceanic waterway as free to the ships of all nations as are the two oceans which it connects. The only valid reasons for charging tolls are, first, to pay the cost of operating the canal and interest on investment, and, secondly, to protect the transcontinental railroads from the competition of a free canal. If, then, corresponding and compensating advantages in each case will result from a free canal, it should be made free. The increase of the trade of the United States through a free canal will be so much greater than through a toll canal that this increase in the first year would equal the revenue from tolls for five years, while in ten years the increase resulting from a free canal over that of a toll canal would pay nearly twice over the original cost of the canal.

"The basis for tolls will be the cost of operation plus interest on the investment. The official estimate of annual cost of operation is $3,000,000. Interest on the outside approximate cost of the canal, $400,000,000, at as low a rate as three per cent, would be $12,000,000. Tolls should therefore bring in an annual income of $15,000,000. Upon a conservative estimate of trade experts, the actual traffic in 1915 will aggregate 10,000,000 tons, which means that every vessel must pay $1.50 per net ton for each passage. On an average measurement of 3,000 tons per vessel, each ship would therefore pay a tax or toll of $4,500 per trip, which in turn must be added to the cost of freight and is ultimately paid by the consumer. That this $4,500 tax on a 3000 ton steamer engaged in commerce may be a serious burden is realized from the fact that the sum would probably pay, in the case of the average low speed freight carrier, the entire wages of the captain and the crew for the trip and that the total of different payments for such trips in a year through the canal would be equal to the legitimate income of the investment represented by the ship, and this amount paid out in canal tolls might therefore prevent the vessel continuing to engage in the commerce of the canal.

"A free canal, at a conservative estimate, based on the data of trade experts, will carry in the first year $75,000,000 more of the products of the United States than a toll canal, an amount equal to receipts of tolls required to cover operation and interest for five years. At this rate for ten years, without even counting the natural growth from year to year, the increase for that period will pay for the entire original cost of the canal and liberal interest on the investment, or $750,000,000. Stated another way, will the United States deliberately throw away an opportunity to increase the sales of its products $750,000,000 in ten years in order to save $75,000,000 in tolls?

"An annual appropriation of $3,000,000 to operate the canal is a small sum compared to the entire annual budget of $1,000,000,000 of the United States for the maintenance of the government, but a direct annual tax of $15,000,000 on ships and tonnage means a loss of $75,000,000 and more, each year, for the commerce of the United States.

"One underlying and important truth must be admitted by everybody: The United States is not constructing the canal to gain revenues from the tolls on traffic. It is building it purely for commercial and strategic reasons; commercial, to provide a new and short sea trade route between the Atlantic and Pacific; strategic, to be able to protect readily and effectively with its navy, in case of war, real or threatened, both Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Tolls have nothing to do with the strategic phase; all vessels will be or will not be allowed to pass in the event of war, tolls or no tolls. They have, however, everything to do with the commercial phase.

"A free canal, in addition to increasing the commerce of the United States in ten years to fifty times the cost of operation and interest, will accomplish other remarkable results. It will absolutely destroy all possibility, in any shape or manner, of monopoly in interoceanic traffic. It will encourage every shipowning, operating, or chartering company or individual in the world to build, operate, or charter vessels to use the canal. It will keep rates between the two coasts of the United States at a minimum and develop an immense traffic between the Atlantic and Gulf ports and those of California, Oregon and Washington. It will improve to the largest degree the possibilities of trade between the United States and the west or Pacific coast of the twelve Latin American countries reaching with vast potential resources for $600 miles from Mexico to Chile. It will bring to the ports of the United States and Latin America vessels of every flag, providing them with abundant shipping facilities and adding greatly to their prosperity.

"It will encourage our sister republics to develop their merchant marine and make them feel that the canal is for their good as well as that of the United States. It will be the only effective influence to take away a considerable proportion of the traffic of the Suez canal which ought to come to Panama and of that trade which otherwise never will take the Panama route in preference to Suez. It will settle immediately the treaty issues with foreign countries as to discriminations in tolls against them in trade between the United States and foreign lands and still allow every advantage to American vessels in the coastwise trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States. It will, in short, mean the difference at the very start, between a busy canal doing a great business, with consequent profit to the industries of the United States, and a dull canal doing a small business with disappointment everywhere in the United States that so little good is being derived from a waterway costing $400,000,000.

"As to the railways, the argument that a free canal will seriously injure their business is not well founded. It is also illogical as the contention of by-gone days that they could not stand the competition of the rivers, the lakes and seas—as ridiculous as to say that railways between New York and Boston, New York and New Orleans, Seattle and San Francisco, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, Buffalo and Detroit, could not operate successfully between these points because of water competition. Added to this is also the meritable and rapid growth and of the Pacific coast and central west development and additional prosperity resulting from the canal which will reflect on the railroads and more than make up in a few years for any previous loss of business through the canal. The transcontinental railways, according to the precedents of economic evolution and the history and tendency of transportation conditions and influences, should favor a free canal instead of opposing it. In ten years they will wonder why they were so unwise as to antagonize the canal and will rejoice at the new prosperity and filling up of the country which will result from the canal.

"The fact that the two oceans were not connected at Panama sooner was an accident of creation, and Col. Goethals, backed by the United States government, is now doing what the Creator forgot to do. Had he done it, the route would be free to the ships and commerce of the world; can the United States congress afford to put its judgment against that of the Almighty? Let it execute His delayed will, and the celebration of opening the canal will be the greatest international event in the history of the world."

Hill's Corner

From time to time it is our purpose to remind everybody who cares to read the advertisements that appear in the Register that we are still "doin' business" at the same old stand, and perhaps some newcomer may thereby learn that we have the goods he will need, and if we can only induce him to come and get our prices of HARDWARE and stoves—Hoes, Forks, Rakes and Shovels; Barbed Wire, Wire Fencing and Wire Cloth; Bath Tubs, Sinks, Bowls and Toilets; Rubber Hose Rubber Belting, Washing Machines and Wringers and the thousand other things we have in stock, then he will know what he ought to pay the other fellow if he should choose to buy of him instead of us.

If we shall have set the tenderfoot on the right track so that he will not be too badly "taken in" we shall have accomplished one part of our mission in life and then if, perchance, he should conclude to return and buy of us the things he needs we shall have completed the job that we came here to do, which job we have been expecting to finish right here—make a living—and we are doin' it one day at a time. LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET
The strong tone which prevailed on the market last week was again manifest yesterday. Indications are that there will be added strength to the market from now on until after the holidays, due to the heavy demand at this season, and with only limited receipts to meet the demand.

The egg situation was unchanged, the market being in good shape under the light receipts. There was a good movement in all grades, storage stock moving out well at firm figures. Arrivals were 89 cases.

The butter market opened strong, with the result that an advance of the better grades was noticed. Creamery extra advanced 2 cents, and firsts 1 cent. The advance was not due to a scarcity of these grades, and a heavy demand, but rather in keeping with the San Francisco market. The situation throughout the country on this staple is rather unsettled at this season, but according to local handlers no further advance is looked for. Storage holdings are heavy. Inferior grades were unchanged, and inclined to be weak under an indifferent demand. Receipts were 33,114 pounds.

No change in quotations on potatoes was noted. The market was strong at prevailing quotations. There was an undercurrent of uneasiness shown, due to the fact that dealers in this staple are well stocked up, and new local potatoes are making their appearance. Retailers are buying freely, but jobbers are so plentifully supplied, car lot shippers are unable to interest them, resulting in the accumulation in the railway yards. Receipts were 1640 sacks.

No onion receipts were reported in the market ruled firm at prevailing quotations. While there has been a noticeable falling off in receipts for several days, more onions are held in storage than there have been for years at the same season. Dealers are beginning to move their stock from storage to meet the demand.

Sweet potato receipts were 49 sacks. The market was in good shape, and dealers had no trouble in disposing of their holdings at the prevailing quotation of $2.00 a hundredweight.

In the green vegetable line several changes were noted, and the general tone was firm. Cabbage advanced 10 cents a sack. Celery was a trifle firmer, and dealers held their stock at $2.50 a crate.

WOULD ANNUL
THE MARRIAGE

Anaheim Married Man Says Woman Deceived Him As to Her Health

Fermin Aguilar Shows a Good Reputation and Is Given Probation

Alleging that the woman who is now his wife deceived him as to the condition of her health, James H. Brown of Anaheim has brought suit to annul his marriage to Kate Brown. The complaint was filed at the county clerk's office by Attorney F. C. Spencer.

The wedding occurred on October 23, 1910. Brown alleges that he married the woman on the representation that she was in good health. After marriage he found that she suffered from epilepsy, and had so suffered for ten years. Just as soon as Brown found out the facts in the case he immediately left her. The date of his leaving was September 1, 1911, nearly a year after their marriage. He alleges that because of her illness his wife is unable to attend to her household duties.

Given Probation
Fermin Aguilar in the superior court yesterday on the face of it proved up as a model Mexican. His employer, Robert Gisler, and his relatives declared he was a hard-worker and was never known to take a drink of liquor until the day in October when he became intoxicated and shot Trinidad Ramirez through the arm. Fermin testified it was the first time in his life he was intoxicated.

Gisler was also the employer of Aguilar's father, now a fugitive from justice for having shot a Mexican through the leg, and it developed that Gisler had not reported the shooting to the officers though requested to do so. Attorney Green, who represented Aguilar, who had pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon, said that the sins of the father should not be visited on the son, and the judge said that he inquired into the matter only to show the attitude of Gisler toward the Aguilar.

Judge West evidently had some doubt as to the entire truthfulness of Aguilar's story. Aguilar said he shot Ramirez accidentally, and Ramirez thought the shot was meant for some other person. Aguilar asked for probation. The judge gave him the benefit of the doubt, sentenced him to two years in San Quentin and allowed him to go during good behavior.

McDowell Says Jake Winn Put Out Animal's Eye With Whip Lash

R. R. McDowell of Newhope today swore to a complaint charging Jake Winn with cruelty to a six-month-old colt belonging to McDowell. Winn is a son of G. A. Winn, who was shot by S. H. Overacker, now in the county jail pending an appeal on his sentence of ten years in Folsom.

McDowell told Justice Cox that he and Jake Winn are neighbors. McDowell has a fine colt that McDowell says will be worth $300 when three years old. The colt got away and wandered into Winn's field. McDowell says that Winn caught the animal, tied him up and beat him frightfully with a black-snake. Among other injuries alleged to have been received by the colt is the blinding of one eye. Constable Jackson has the warrant.

Stealing Milk
Policeman Ryan made a haul of hobo Sunday night near the depots. The men are believed to have been the ones who stole a number of bottles of milk from porches in the vicinity of West Fourth and the railroad.

Three of the six arrested were given fifteen days and another three got ten days.

The Santa Ana Sunshine Society will hold its annual bazaar next Saturday afternoon, Dec. 9th, at Remsburg and Lindsey's, corner Fourth and Bush.

State Supervisor of Irrigation Projects

Editor the California Outlook: Dear Sir. The editorial in your number of November 25 relative to irrigation bonds is deserving of wide circulation. The trouble in the past has been the inability of the legislators and of the people to realize that irrigation is anything more than a local question. Its magnitude and importance to the state, as a whole, is such that it deserves more liberal treatment than it has received.

You are not, however, entirely just to the irrigation enterprises in the past. An examination of the failed districts will show that such failure was more often the result of the peculiar stringency of the times which caused widespread disaster in all directions, than of incapacity of dishonesty in the management of the failed districts. The failure, also, arose from inability to finance enterprises which were perfectly feasible, and were being managed with satisfactory skill and intelligence. With as complete knowledge as to the ultimate cost of construction as that possessed by the people within the district, the purchasers of bonds, after purchasing a limited number, refused to complete the purchase of the issue, rendering impossible the construction of the system, and no matter how admirably the district was being managed, or how skillfully the engineering problems had been worked out, conditions of that kind could not be overcome by any locality.

Some method of state supervision unquestionably is desirable, but there we are confronted with the danger that the men who plan and manage are ignorant of the financial conditions of the district that must pay the bills, and the tendency of the professional mind will always be to seek for theoretical perfection, regardless of the ability of the locality to stand the expense. This has been the defect of the national irrigation movement. Most of these federal projects, while probably, from an engineering standpoint, carried out as economically as possible, and while probably very complete, were constructed at a cost that would mean bankruptcy to communities such as have availed themselves of the district system in California, if such indebtedness had to be met. Just as in a man's private business, so in an irrigation system, development must go hand in hand with ability, and this is the advantage of the district system. Of course, by wise forethought and legislation this difficulty might be avoided, but it certainly is very apt to be the result of state supervision.

What is needed, however, is a comprehensive view of the whole problem that will recognize the liability of the people as a whole, and not impose the entire burden, at least immediately, upon the locality where the work is being expended. While California has spent vast sums of money in reclamation and other public enterprises, the state has not spent a cent on the irrigation of its arid lands, which is the most important problem with which we are confronted today.

Very truly yours,
